

CONTINUOUS LEARNING & DEVELOPMENT

BUILD A BETTER FUTURE

Recruitment Development Institute emphasizes practical, best-practice techniques that allow each recruiter to immediately improve his or her personal recruiting style and processes, ultimately leading to better hires.

EMPOWER YOUR RECRUITMENT TEAM TO SUCCEED

Renew your recruiting department's passion and ability to find the best talent with Personified's Recruitment Development Institute (RDI). This rigorous workshop series for recruiters is customized to your company's unique needs, vernacular, business challenges, and recruiting environment. Plus, it is led by talent consultants with years of experience in the recruiting role who share real-world examples of the best and worst recruiting habits and procedures.

Continuous learning and development for any company's recruitment team is critical to improving recruiter productivity and, in turn, improving the talent you add to your team. Personified's tailored development workshops address the specific needs of each company's recruiting needs. Our modular, flexible, and highly interactive sessions are presented in a classroom setting in which recruiters role play situations and practice new skills. There is also an option for a Web-based program.

Personified's RDI helps company's recruiters by equipping them with the skills to find and secure both active and passive candidates, delivering only the highest quality talent to your team. As a result, your recruiting department can become a strategic partner to your internal business clients and a core resource for the success of your organization.
